NODAL POINT CAREERS

Energy Sales Representative

Remote in Texas. Full-time or part-time. Commission-based opportunity. We are looking for people who can open doors, ask better questions, and turn energy data into clear action.

RECRUITING BRIEF

WHAT WE DO

We reverse-engineer supplier tariffs to expose hidden cost leakage in commercial energy contracts.

Nodal Point is a forensic energy intelligence platform. We do not sell a generic commodity story. We give clients a sharp, evidence-backed view of where money is leaking, what the contract is really doing, and what the next move should be.

TEXAS ENERGY MARKET · COMMERCIAL ACCOUNTS · CONSULTATIVE SELLING · FORENSIC ANALYSIS

INCOME PATH

$40K - $250K+

Base plus commissions while you ramp, residuals as your book grows, and no hard ceiling for top performers.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Find the leakage first

If a CFO can understand the problem in a few seconds, the sales conversation gets easier and the close gets cleaner.

THE ROLE

HOW YOU SPEND YOUR DAY

01 Sales Outreach

Cold outreach to CFOs, operations directors, and facility managers across Texas. You build pipeline from zero and keep moving until you get the meeting.

02 Contract Negotiation

Present forensic findings with dollar impact, structure contracts around real load behavior, and surface demand-ratchet or pass-through issues before they become surprises.

03 Account Management

Manage active accounts through the CRM intelligence layer, monitor signals, and turn renewals into repeat revenue instead of starting over every year.

INCOME POTENTIAL

CLEAR UPSIDE, NOT VAGUE PROMISES

YEAR 1 · RAMP — $40K - $60K

First six months: base plus commissions while you build pipeline and learn the market.

YEAR 2+ · FULL PIPELINE — $60K - $100K

Residuals stack as your book becomes active and contracts begin renewing on their own cycle.

YEAR 3+ · UNCAPPED — $100K - $250K+

No ceiling. Top performers own the market by owning the relationships and the data behind them.

CANDIDATE PROFILE

What a strong hire looks like

This side of the brief is about fit, pace, and the kind of discipline we need from someone who is going to sell into real businesses, not just chase leads.

Questions welcome

HOW WE WANT YOU TO WORK

You should feel comfortable selling by diagnosis, not by pressure.

We are looking for someone who can keep a simple story straight: identify the leak, show the money, and guide the next step. If you are sharp, coachable, and comfortable hearing no, you will do well here.

WHAT WE ARE TESTING FOR

Ownership

Do you build the pipeline yourself, or wait for someone else to hand it to you?

SIMPLE STANDARD

Ask better questions

The best reps are not loud. They are precise, prepared, and hard to ignore.

WHAT WINNING LOOKS LIKE

THE BEHAVIORS THAT MATTER

Pipeline builder
You create opportunity instead of waiting for it to appear.

Consultative under pressure
You can stay calm, keep the call moving, and keep the next question simple.

Commercial thinker
You can connect utility pricing, contract terms, and real dollars without making it complicated.

Resilient closer
You take the hit, learn from it, and come back cleaner the next time.

YOUR TOOLS

WHAT YOU WILL LEAN ON

CRM intelligence layer — CORE
Keep the account picture clean and the follow-up disciplined.

Foundry variables — AI
Make outreach specific enough to sound like it was built for the person reading it.

ERCOT / market context — LIVE
Use live market information to make the conversation more relevant and credible.

Protocol builder — FLOW
Structure follow-up so the next step is obvious, not buried in noise.

A TYPICAL DAY

THE RHYTHM OF THE ROLE

01 Find the target
Research accounts, identify the right person, and line up the first conversation without wasting time.

02 Run the diagnostic
Use the right questions to uncover how the client buys energy, where the pain is, and what actually matters to them.

03 Move toward action
Translate the findings into a clean next step, whether that is a proposal, a review, or a deeper account conversation.

Stop competing on price. Start owning the market.

Apply at nodalpoint.io/careers or send questions to signal@nodalpoint.io. If you want a clear process and real upside, this is the seat.
